

Koonce Securities, Inc
Identification Verification Policy

Koonce Securities, Inc. has incorporated identity verification procedures in order to comply with provisions of the USA Patriot Act. This federal law requires financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account with Koonce Securities. Therefore, upon each account opening, you will be required to provide documentation, such as a driver's license, passport or other photo ID, in order to verify the account registration. We may from time to time utilize non-affiliated agencies to further authenticate client identities.
